David was pressed against Dave's chest. Dave held him so tightly, gentle little kisses and nuzzles against his forehead. David purred, his eyes closed. Lips and nose were tickled by curls of golden chest hair. Bare feet slowly shuffled together. Knees softly banged together. Groins pressed together, creating a warm heat that wasn't quite lustful but almost. David's fingertips tangled in the silken hair at the back of Dave's head. Dave's large hand splayed against David's back. Neither man noticed the music, though it was one of both their favorite songs. Instead they moved to the beat of their heart.
